

People often choose names to acknowledge their pet's particular character. Thus, many choose names that denote behavioral characteristics, color, size or other descriptors, or names that relate to Australia, Beards or Dragons. Others pick up on a theme that reflects the person's interests, such as music, writing, film, etc. Still others pick human first names, often without regard to the suspected sex of their young dragon. The lists below are sample categories and names, either for you to use directly or to stimulate your imagination as you seek the perfect name for your new pet. Enjoy!
